

Chikage Takahashi Molander

Frontend & UX/UI Designer

As a front-end developer and UX/UI designer, I combine design expertise with technical knowledge. With a background in architecture and fashion/textile design, I prioritize creating user-friendly and visually appealing web solutions. Focusing on front-end development allows me to craft engaging interfaces that captivate users. I aim for seamless functionality and delightful user experiences in all projects. Additionally, my diverse cultural background from Japan enhances my contribution to the team's dynamic environment.
